

Medieval Math Reminder                      January 2011

Happy New Year!

Please get your math tracker for December turned in as soon as possible we are getting ready to reward those diligent students with their patch for December! The January trackers are attached and you will see that we have taken out the extra minute line for each day. The goal for each student is to practice math facts for 10 minutes 5 nights a week and check the box for each day it is completed. Just make sure you have a total of 5 days completed each week.

We will be announcing our date and time for our first knight ceremony in the coming week. All students who turned in their trackers for November and December will be eligible for the ceremony. Thanks for the support and keep those trackers coming in!

Thanks – The Ames Medieval Math Committee
